Introductory note

This introductory note does not form a part of the notice.

The following notice gives notice of the variation and consolidation of an environmental permit.

This variation makes the following changes to the permit:

- With regard to the emissions to air, conversion of the periodic emission limit values to mass emission limit values;
- Inclusion of emission points to sewer;
- Correction of minor drafting errors.

The schedules specify the changes made to the permit.

The status log of a permit sets out the permitting history, including any changes to the permit reference number.
